Tord Johnsen - singer with attitude

"In my ears he sound somewhat like Steve Earl twenty years ago but with a bit more well polished production" - <http://omcountry.wordpress.com>

Tord Johnsen left the Gothenburg metal scene in the early nineties, where he played with musicians such as Jesper Strömblad (ex. In Flames), for a career in the Swedish military.

After almost 20 years of musical silence he is releasing an album far from the metal genre, inspired by his years in the Swedish north and from his nowadays rural life in the outskirts of Gothenburg.
